Modern And Cozy Collide At Denver's Second Home

Second Home Kitchen and Bar, the newest venue from Denver-based Sage Restaurant Group, is both contemporary and inviting. The restaurant in the Cherry Creek JW Marriott hotel opened in March with a menu of upscale American comfort food and a comprehensive beverage program that includes an assortment of microbrews, wines and mixed drinks. Second Home aims to be just that—a cozy retreat for local diners. The Rocky Mountain décor features walls covered in stone and cowhide, wood plank ceilings, Italian chandeliers, and wooden and shearling furniture. The kitchen has an open flame brick oven for gourmet pizzas and a rotisserie for meat, poultry and fish (entrées range from $10 to $29). Craft beer is a beverage highlight, and Second Home lists nearly 20 selections ($6 a 12-ounce bottle to $28 a 750-ml. bottle), along with several mainstream domestics and imports ($5 to $8 a bottle). The approachable wine menu includes roughly 10 glass pours ($8 to $13) and 50 bottles ($31 to $62 a 750-ml. bottle), while the cocktail list is divided into Martinis ($10 to $15) and classic drinks ($8 to $11). Designed to be like your kitchen, only better, Second Home evokes feelings of a relaxed weekend getaway spruced up with slick, urban accoutrements.

Denver's Second Home serves American comfort food and a large selection of microbrews in a stylish, Rocky Mountain-inspired setting.
